
Start your own Business with us!

The company Laser & Co. Solutions GmbH was founded in 1991 with specification of hardware sales, software development & distribution and IT consulting. In 2004 came the myAVR family products and therewith our successful online-store.

myAVR stands for microcontroller solutions, for training and self learning. Our ambition is to enable our customers with a successful entry into the world of microcontroller.

In this time we divide our products in 3 groups:

myAVR USB solutions

- mySmartUSB, the multifunctional programmer, for communication with AVR controller (UART, TWI, SPI) or programming these through ISP
- myAVR Board (equipped / assembly kit), with a controller of megaAVR serial
- myMultiProg, the universal programmer (equipped / assembly kit) with seven different sockets for Classic AVR, Tiny AVR, Mega AVR and also the newest integrated series of AVR and with that, you are able to program the most of AVR controller in DIP-Housing

myAVR LPT solutions for serial interfaces

- myAVR Board (equipped / assembly kit)
- myMultiProg (equipped / assembly kit)

myAVR additional modules

- LCD Add-On, which has a double spaced display with background illumination and this can be set over a contrast controller individually
- Prototyping board, for realization of your own circuits and projects

Benefit from our products and developments!

We have

- A competently customer support
- High quality products "made in Germany"
- Short delivery times
- Attractive prices
- First microcontroller solutions which special designed for the training and self learning and because of that, this is special interesting for beginners and schools
- Extensive documentation for each products is in German and English (assembly instruction, technical description, product description, etc)

We offering

- Very good retail condition
- A solid, trustful and long term cooperation
- A strong partner with 17 years experiences in microcontroller and software development

Our requirements

- You should be from the EU.
- The independent acquisition of new customer should not be a problem for you.
- You need an own web presence for the sale of our products but if you don't have it we can also help you to create and design an own web presence.

Have we are aroused your interest? Please contact us by email.